

ABOUT US

The Good Work Network works to expand the local economy by building minority and women owned businesses. It is the primary provider of business development services for the small community based businesses that support families and sustain communities. Good Work Network educates, coaches and supports these small businesses to help them improve their skills, realize their full potential and become active participants in the local economy. Through the renovation of the historic Franz Building, Good Work Network will be able to sustain its operations, expand its business resource center, provide retail and office rental space to small businesses and contribute to the revitalization of Central City.
